Cyberattacks are the number one global risk to business*

A cyber attack can destroy your entire IT environment in minutes.

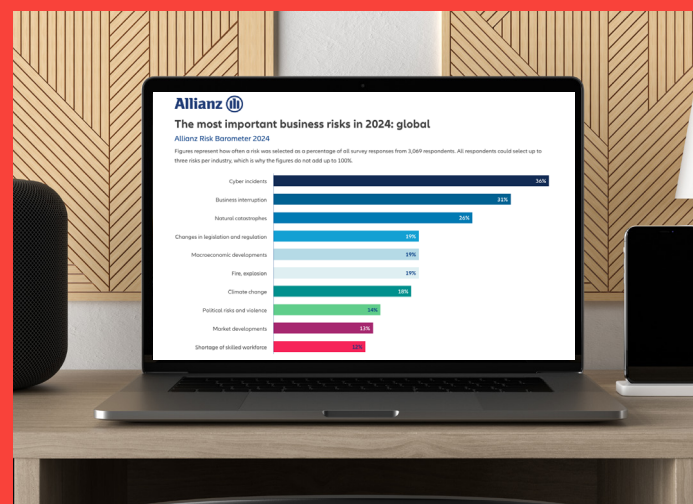

How would your business survive?

- Systems shutting down
- No service to clients
- No contact with suppliers
- Client data in third-party hands

With AI booming, cyberattacks are on the rise; they're more frequent, more targeted, and more devastating than ever before. SMEs are particularly exposed, yet many are uninsured or don't have effective protection in place.

“

60% of SMEs without insurance face bankruptcy within just six months of experiencing a severe cyber incident.
